James Moore: A George I Gilt Gesso Settee

England, circa 1720

1720

124.5 x 205 x 63.5 cm (49 x 80<sup>3</sup>/<sub>4</sub> inches)

England

An exceptional and very rare George I carved gilt gesso settee. The frame decorated throughout with outstanding carved gilt gesso detailing, the back and seat upholstered in eighteenth century French silk damask, the arm supports boldly outswept with curled terminals, the gilt gesso seat frieze further embellished with scrolling foliage and circular punchwork background, standing on elegant cabriole legs further decorated with acanthus leaves and surmounted by shells, terminating in pad feet similarly decorated.

'This settee... is one of the most unusual items of gesso furniture recorded.' –Norman Adams pp.26-27
