A GEORGE II WALNUT SIDE CHAIR

England, circa 1730

A fine George II walnut side chair of particularly good colour and patina. The scrolled crest rail carved with a central shell and foliate decoration, the vase shaped back splat carved with leaves, a rare feature, above a rounded seat frame, standing on shell carved cabriole legs that terminate in claw and ball feet. The seat upholstered with 18th century period needlework retaining exceptionally good colours.

In the manner of Giles Grendey.
