A WILLIAM AND MARY ESCRITOIRE

England, circa 1680 - 1700

A superb late 17th century William and Mary walnut escritoire. Of wonderfully figured walnut throughout, the upper section with a moulded cornice above two short drawers in the upper frieze above the fold down writing leather lined writing surface, opening to reveal a series of smaller drawers and pigeon holders fashioned around a central hinged door. The lower section with pronounced moulded edge above a series of two short and three long graduated drawers. With brass ring handles. Standing on its original turned feet.

Superbly figured walnut throughout - great colour. Plenty of secret drawers!
